

FUNCTIONALAB

BEAUTY NUTRITION

Tonic: Energy

Bio-active energy/Acai, green tea, ginseng & guarana*

DESCRIPTION

A synergistic combination of antioxidants and other phytonutrients, including acai extract, berry extracts, Panax ginseng and guarana, to support energy production and maintenance.*

FUNCTIONS

Functionalab Energy tonic combines extracts of antioxidants and plants to provide and maintain energy level during the day. Panax ginseng is recognized for having various functions, including its function as a stimulant. According to traditional Chinese medicine, panax ginseng promotes energy and improves circulation, increases blood supply, revitalizes and aids recovery from weakness after illness, and stimulates the body. Guarana, a climbing plant from the maple family mostly growing in Brazil, is particularly known as an effective energy booster since its content in caffeine is about twice the caffeine found in coffee beans. Therefore, the combination of these two plants (panax ginseng and guarana) creates a perfect formula to support energy production and maintenance throughout the day. In addition to its different virtue, panax ginseng is also considered as a strong antioxidant.

Functionalab Energy tonic formula intelligently combines the alertness benefits of panax ginseng and of guarana with the health effectiveness of powerful antioxidants coming from fruit extracts: blueberry, acai, pomegranate and cranberry, and from green tea. In addition to being a recognized antioxidant, green tea is also considered a stimulant.
